

Try Some Stuff You Don't Think You Should

No one will ever sing this song to you
Believe me, yeah, it's true
No one

No one has ever sung this song to me
We'll be together?! Who said we would be?
No one

A friend of mine told me that it's good
To try some stuff you don't think you should
And so I went and I said I would

No one will ever let you down again
It's been so long now since we two began
So long

Are we apart yet? Don't know what to do
These feelings I get don't mean me and you
It's not you

A friend of mine told me that it's good
To try some stuff you don't think you should
And so I went and I said I would

But I don't really mean it
I'll tell you the truth when you get home
I've already seen it that people are lonely on their own

I don't, don't, don't really mean it
I don't, don't, don't really mean it
I don't, don't, don't really mean it
I've already seen it, I've already seen it

When you get home again
I'll tell you the truth and then
When you get home again
I'll tell you the truth, my friend
